MITCHELL CHAPTER STANDARDS AWARDS

The Mitchell Chapter Standards Program (MCS) was implemented in 1994 to lend structure to the common goals which all Phi Kappa Sigma Chapters should be aspiring to attain. The intent of the program was, and still is, to provide the chapter and the International Fraternity with a means of assessing performance on an annual basis. They will receive their awards along with 2005-2006 winners at the 93rd Grand Chapter in Boston on July 29, 2006.

MESSAGE FROM GRAND ALPHA AND EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

Grand Alpha Daniel Lund (BΞ, '85) and Executive Director Toby Smith (Φ, '83) along with Robert Wojcik, Educational Consultant (AΞ, '04) and Grand Sigma Doug Opicka (AΞ, '97) at Purdue's Centennial Reception on November 12, 2005.

continue as a life-long member of Phi Kappa Sigma. To be sure, this engine requires a lot of fuel, as there is little in the way of "low hanging fruit" for purposes of starting new chapters. Indeed, it pains

Brothers:

In the life of any business there are times which call for desperate measures. Gladly, we report that this is not one of those times for Phi Kappa Sigma!

This is not to say that we do not have considerable work ahead of us to grow the Fraternity, although, in many areas, the Fraternity has "grown" inwardly as an institution over the last several years. Certain signs of recent progress and successes that the Fraternity now exhibits include:

- Chapter debt is at an all-time low
- The rate of chapter closure is low
- Systemic decline suffered among fraternities in recruiting new members appears to have leveled off for Phi Kappa Sigma
- Interest groups requesting affiliation with Phi Kappa Sigma is at an all-time high, with colonizations of new groups increasing annually
- Liability insurance "base rate" per member has been reduced 23.1% over the past four years, based in large part on improving risk management strategies
- Volunteerism remains at its highest levels ever, with new programs fostering metropolitan and regional alumni associations

That we are not in a "panic mode" does not mean that we do not take seriously all needs of the Fraternity. Indeed, the steps which have led to a fiscally sound Phi Kappa Sigma have in certain instances, and unfortunately so, resulted in the inevitable attrition that comes when the rules are enforced. Nonetheless, our inward growth has prepared us for outward growth – the expansion of the outreach of the Brotherhood, and the principles for which it stands, both to new schools and to those universities where we once enjoyed a presence.

Through the efforts of a very devoted Board, Executive Committee and staff over the last four years, the Fraternity has assessed its needs, has developed a mission and has designed a suitable and thorough program for expansion. That engine now needs one thing to run: fuel. In this context, "fuel" is volunteerism; it is financial resources; it is expertise and ideas. That is the role that you, an alumnus of the Fraternity, are asked to fill as you us that so many of the requests that we receive from our alumni to re-colonize their cherished but now-closed chapters of the Fraternity present us with the most formidable challenges to overcome in terms of university administrative hurdles and the very limited number of openings available as compared to the number of fraternal organization applicants.

Through it all, we have witnessed our expansion efforts – even when not achieving the ultimate goal – placing Phi Kappa Sigma at the top of a list of sometimes 25-30 applicant fraternities, most of which are larger and better funded than Phi Kappa Sigma. We are so close: if ours is to be the "little engine that could," we need you as additional fuel for our campaign!

This is not simply a "state of the Fraternity" address but, rather, more of an appeal to each and every alumnus who reads this. What do you, as a lifetime member of this Brotherhood, feel called to give to the efforts of Phi Kappa Sigma to sustain itself and expand its influence and prestige? If you can willingly give your time, your financial resources, your intellect – or all of these – we firmly believe our efforts to expand the Fraternity cannot fail. Please know that we do not pursue growth for the sake of growth alone. Rather, like any living organism, we must grow, as to fail to do so entails the death of the group.

The details of our procedures for expansion are available for your perusal at any time. We trust that you will be steadfast in your support of Phi Kappa Sigma, and we pledge ourselves as elected leaders and volunteers to be faithful stewards of that which you so generously give to your Fraternity.

ALU APPROVED AS DIRECTOR OF VOLUNTEER RECRUITMENT

Carmen Alu, Delta Iota '04 (Marist College) was approved as Director of Volunteer Recruitment in January 2006. Brother Alu graduated with a degree in Business Administration, focusing on Human Resource Marketing. He currently serves as a Staffing Account Manager at IBM-TG Watson Research Center.

His focus in this role will be on substantially increasing the size of the Fraternity's volunteer core and increasing the awareness of opportunities for Alumni to get involved (i.e. Grand Chapter, Men of Honor, Skull Sessions, and chapter support roles). He welcomes Alumni inquiries regarding your ideas, suggestions, and/or comments via email (calu@pks.org) or via cell (570-881-5660).

FOUNDATION PRESIDENT PETER J. NICHOLS, ALPHA UPSILON '80

The Phi Kappa Sigma Foundation has continued to focus on its mission of supporting the Fraternity over the last year. It is the strengthening of the International Fraternity that will help us continue to improve, build, and expand the Phi Kappa Sigma Experience across North-America. With the consistent involvement and dedication of our membership, young and old alike, we have continued the fine tradition of our great Fraternity. It is the concept of returning the favor that will ensure that Phi Kappa Sigma is "Stellis Aequus Durando." It is also important to remember that Phi Kappa Sigma is a lifelong membership; we must constantly be looking for ways to support our Brotherhood so that we may give back to others what has been given to us.

At the present time the Foundation continues to support the Fraternity through generous contributions toward its Men of Honor Leadership & Development Program as well as through providing financial assistance in the form of scholarships.

The Foundation continues to search and find additional ways to which it may increase its support to the Fraternity, but this may only be achieved through thoughtful contributions by members such as yourselves. It is through your generous and proportionate gifts, that we will be able to ensure the Foundation can increase its principal while continuing to improve its returns on those dollars. Donations to the Phi Kappa Sigma Foundation help our Fraternity grow to heights never before imagined.

For our Fraternity to grow we must nurture and care for the things that we love

-Reflection from Omega Chapter in 1890

The Foundation of the Phi Kappa Sigma International Fraternity is designed to provide the resources for growth within the Fraternity. By growing the size of our existing chapters, restarting our fallen chapters, and developing new chapters, the Fraternity will prosper. It is the growth in the number of members that are contributing to the Foundation that will undoubtedly support the Fraternity in this initiative. It is the growth in the size of the donations our Foundation receives that will allow for continued improvement and support to be provided to the Fraternity and ultimately, aid in this growth.

It is our distinct privilege to provide support for this growth, as we are each members of Phi Kappa Sigma.

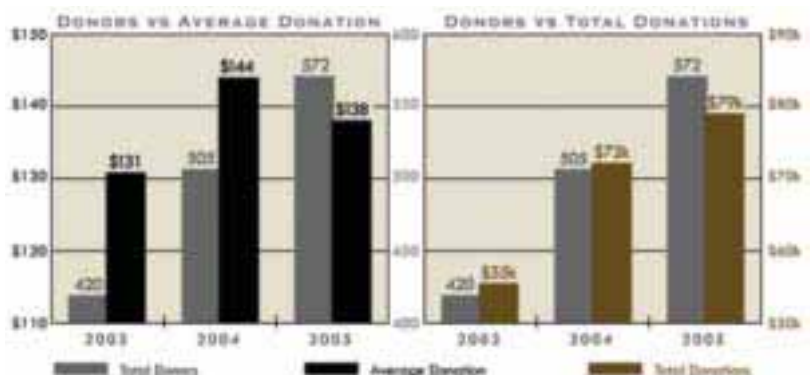

PHI KAPPA SIGMA FOUNDATION MISSION STATEMENT

The Phi Kappa Sigma Foundation supports the development of ethical leaders and cultivates a lifelong commitment to the educational and charitable missions of Phi Kappa Sigma by: supporting educational and leadership programming initiatives, providing scholarships to support academic achievement, and enabling members and friends to support these programs through tax-deductible contributions. Through these efforts we help the Fraternity strengthen and grow its membership and provide the best membership experience possible.

VISION OF GROWTH

- 1 Increase the number of Phi Kappa Sigma Foundation donors
- 2 Increase the size of individual donations
- 3 Increase support to the Fraternity
(Restart Chapters, Create New Chapters, and Grow our existing Chapters)
- 4 Increase scholarship support
- 5 Increase alumni communication

SKULL CLASSIC GOLF TOURNAMENT

This past October the Foundation held its Annual Skull Classic Golf Tourney & Apple Cup. The event was held at the Avondale Golf Course in Hayden, Idaho. The Classic teams consisted of Brothers from across the Nation whereas the Apple teams consisted of members of the Alpha Upsilon (University of Washington) and Beta Psi (Washington State University) Chapters.

The event was a Shotgun start, and even though the weather did not cooperate fully, the event was largely successful. The competition was followed by a banquet and a silent auction which helped raise funds for our Scholarship and Leadership Programs.

Executive Director Toby Smith (Φ, '83) is about to swing while Grand Pi Joe Moidl (ΑΘ, '94) and Grand Sigma Doug W. Opicka (ΑΕ, '97) look on.

Additionally, the Phi Kappa Sigma Foundation Annual Meeting was held with many of the tournament participants opting to mingle and provide thoughts and insights as to how best support the Fraternity through the efforts of the Foundation.

Washington Alums, Matt Mulligan, Grand Delta Chris T. Benis, and Tom Swift, all '84, were winners of the 2005 Skull Classic Golf Tournament

MEN OF HONOR 2006

The day you became a Phi Kap, something changed forever. It started with the bond you formed with your brothers in college, making memories and forging friendships for a lifetime. But it didn't end there. From the day you received your Maltese Cross, you also received the call to be your best, to build your life around the values of a man of honor, these values have guided Phi Kappa Sigma for generations and will continue to do so long into the distant future. Upon these values you have moved forward, with clear objectives and resolve, with these values Phi Kappa Sigma will move forward as well.

Trust ✘ Honor ✘ Respect ✘ Knowledge
Wisdom ✘ Responsibility ✘ Integrity

Discovering our values and having the courage to act on them

Men of Honor is Phi Kappa Sigma's four-day leadership institute, hosted each January at the Marist Brother's Retreat House in Esopus, New York. The program continues to grow and develop as the Fraternity's premier educational program because of the firm support of Phi Kap volunteers, and the generous financial contribution the Foundation provides to the Fraternity.

ΦΚΣ EXPERIENCE =
RELATIONSHIPS + SHARED VALUES

The power of Men of Honor is in the actions of the Phi Kap undergraduates who attend the experience and return to their respective campus' enacting positive change. Through gaining a deeper understanding of the purpose and principles of Phi Kappa Sigma and the obligations we have each taken, our members are able to take their chapters to the next level of excellence. After attending the program Chris Hahn, AE '08 remarked, "Men of Honor is a wonderful experience that revolutionized the way I view Phi Kappa Sigma. Not since initiation have I been this excited about my future with the Fraternity."

Continuing to build and grow Men of Honor

Every year the demand for the Men of Honor program increases with undergraduate registration filling up before the deadline. As the demand continues to increase, so will the need for continued support of the Men of Honor program. By supporting the Phi Kappa Sigma Foundation and the involvement of our numerous alumni volunteers that donate their time and energy to make the institute a success each year, we will continue to build and shape the great leaders of tomorrow... today through our efforts. It is this commitment and energy of our members who believe in all that Phi Kappa Sigma has been and will become. As the influence and impact of Men of Honor continues to expand, the Fraternity is counting on honorable men to continue its legacy of pursuing change and constancy in equal measure.

“The Men of Honor program has significantly changed my perspective on several levels, from chapter management, to personal improvements, my mind has been enlightened through the program. I am grateful for the opportunity to learn the skills it will take for my chapter and me personally to achieve our goals and full potential. NORTH TEXAS ALUMS CREATE POPCULTURETODAY.COM TV SHOW

Gary Mayes (North Texas ΒΗ, '86) and Vaughan Garrett (North Texas ΒΗ, '86) met when both became new members during their freshmen year. Brother Mayes pitched the idea of making a movie to the Alpha and since then, from Hollywood back to Texas, the rest, as they say, is history. Their first effort was a movie written, produced, and starring all Phi Kaps from Beta Eta North Texas.

The late Neal Hoppers (UCLA ΑΨ, '45) was not only an advisor on the movie but helped the brothers in the publicity of the film. Brother Hoppers presented Beta Eta's idea at the 83rd Grand

Chapter in Philadelphia before the movie was released. Brothers Mayes and Garrett have worked on video productions ever since. In 2005, these two alumni premiered a new television show entitled: Popculturetoday.com (Episode One) The Beatles. They have created a new television show concept that covers the absolute best in rare and hard to find memorabilia. "It is a cross between the Antiques Road Show and Entertainment Tonight" Mayes said. The first episode is in regard to the Beatles phenomenon and features behind the scenes footage involving the 'Fab Four'. They are changing the way audio/video productions are being produced while their imaging and editing style is truly ground breaking and fun to watch on screen. A full series is to follow on other Pop culture icons.

Congratulations to both members for growing their television show from an idea to an award winning pilot. Phi Kap brotherhood is truly a lifelong endeavor as evidenced with Brother Mayes and Garrett. For more info and to pick up a DVD of this exciting show please visit: www.popculturetoday.com.

STATE OF EXPAN

Great things are happening on the expansion front. The International Fraternity is fully invested in seeing Phi Kappa Sigma grow and flourish. The resources needed to support the growth of the Fraternity are being put into place. The work volunteers and staff have put in over the past few years has resulted in a vibrant expansion picture.

The Fraternity has been invited to expand to Villanova University. We will work with the Villanova administration to begin our recruitment efforts on campus within the next twelve months. Also, the Fraternity is already on campus at the University of Wisconsin working to revive our Alpha Theta Chapter. Alpha Theta alumni have been crucial in this effort.

Chartering on February 25th of this year, the Fraternity saw its first new chapter in over four years, Delta Sigma at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County. Of our other four colonies three of them are in the last stage of the colony process and are working on their final petition to the Executive Board.

The Expansion Committee, the International Headquarters, and many volunteers are working with interested students and campus administrators at over twenty other campuses. Our time table includes many groups working towards colony status and many opportunities for the Fraternity to present our case to campuses. The state of Phi Kappa Sigma Expansion is vibrant and strong.

Congratulations Delta Sigma, Our Newest Chapter

University of Maryland, Baltimore County

Chartering our first new chapter in over four years, Phi Kappa Sigma congratulates the men of our UMBC Colony, who on February 25th became the 118th Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma, now the Delta Sigma Chapter.

UMBC PROFILE:

Located outside of Baltimore, MD, right on the city's outer loop

Enrollment: 9,244

Student/Faculty Ratio: 17/1

Year Founded: 1966

Composed of a minority student body of over 45%, making it one of the most diverse schools in the nation
35% of students live on campus
12 fraternities and 9 sororities

The Colony has worked hard over the past two years to complete the Challenge and finish their petition. Two members of the Colony attended Men of Honor this year, representing their Colony well. They left well equipped to make their transition from Colony to Chapter a successful one and are looking forward to writing their own pages of the already rich history of Phi Kappa Sigma. As the Delta Sigma Chapter, these new members are the newest voting member at this year's 93rd Grand Chapter.

Delta Sigma is also looking forward to implementing new recruitment techniques on their campus, by taking multiple new member classes this semester, breaking the trend of one class a semester. They lead the way on their campus when it comes to service; most recently collecting over $400 in donations for Hurricane Katrina victims. They used word of mouth and tables on campus to help draw attention to the tragedy and give students an opportunity to help.

Again, please join us in congratulating the newest chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma, Delta Sigma at the University of Maryland, Baltimore County.

COLONIES

COLONY TARGETS FOR 2006

- Missouri-Rolla
- Penn State
- Richmond
- Saint Leo
- West Florida
- Wisconsin

DePaul University Colony

The DePaul Colony has continued their scholastic success by earning the highest fraternity grades on their campus. The Colony is also working on its final steps to finish their Challenge. Their main goals right now are to continuing their recruitment success, getting their finances together for their chartering costs, and finishing their petition to formally submit to the Executive Board for final chartering approval.

Beta Chi Colony, Clarkson University

Beta Chi is in the middle of a great recruitment semester. Building off of their participation at Men of Honor and a recruitment visit from Headquarters staff, the Colony saw great success bringing in 8 new members, their biggest new member class yet. From this success they hope to take another class this semester and are already recruiting for next fall.

Alumni always ask "What can I do?" Here is the answer.

The Phoenix Campaign is an initiative of Phi Kappa Sigma to utilize our alumni in support of resurrecting closed chapters.

Phoenix alumni groups will work to reopen Chapters by:

- ▶ Cultivating a partnership with the campus and IFC
- ▶ Creating and helping to train an alumni advisory board (5-8 members)
- ▶ Raising funds to support the expansion effort

In the sidebar to the right is a list of targeted (closed between 1925 and 2002) chapters. These groups have large enough alumni bases and have been closed long enough to allow for a fresh start on their respective campuses.

As you can see, we're making some progress but urgently need your additional help. Won't you call the International HQ now and help your fraternity resurrect itself!

HOW CAN YOU HELP?

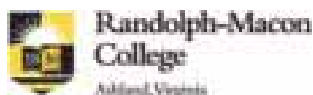

Undergraduate:

- Tell us about your friends at other campuses
- Help support a colony or interest group in your area
- Tell us about your members transferring to other campuses

Alumni:

- Recommend a student for membership (High School & College)
- Volunteer on a Colony Advisory Board
- Contact your chapter alumni or HQ to restart your Chapter
- Contribute financial support for an expansion opportunity

Tau Chapter Revival

Stepping up to reopen their Chapter, alumni are leading the charge at Randolph Macon by speaking with administration and working towards reviving their partnership with the campus.

Following the Phoenix Campaign model Tau alumni are organizing officers for their alumni group, researching the state of Greek Life at Randolph Macon, and have received approval to work towards reopening the Chapter and even to regain their former campus house.

Gamma Xi Colony, George Mason University

Gamma Xi is also working to finish the Challenge this term. Their main goals are working on better recruitment techniques to increase their numbers and scholastic performance.

Gamma Rho Colony, Bryant University

Gamma Rho continues to rebuild itself with the help and support of their Alumni Board. Through continuing to work toward improving their academic performance the Colony will continue to attract additional Re-Founding Fathers that will help rebuild a strong Chapter at Bryant.

FOUNDERS QUEST | RAISING THE RECRUITMENT BAR

Drawing upon inspiration from the founders of the International Fraternity, Founder's Quest is a challenge set forth to every undergraduate Chapter to increase their ability to recruit and retain members.

The founders pioneered the same recruitment techniques we teach today. They met like-minded men through involvement on their campuses; focusing on 1-on-1 relationship building and selling a values-based vision.

This article is the first of many to come on how your Chapter can become a better recruiting force on your campus. The Founder's Quest will set and track recruitment goals for all Chapters and for the national organization.

Phi Kappa Sigma is growing. | Expansion is our mantra. You can help.

As the International Fraternity commits more resources to growth through expansion, recruitment, alumni involvement, increased staff, and a strong push by our foundation.

We need the undergraduate members to step it up more than ever.

Increasing our undergraduate membership count is the most significant opportunity for growth. Rush Week and recruiting only one to two pledge classes a year is an outdated mindset.

It is time to commit to new innovative recruitment strategies.

Every Chapter needs to step outside of the old traditions and lead the way on their campus with new more effective recruitment strategies.

Modern recruitment replaces rush events with real conversations, free food with shared values, and rush fliers with word of mouth. Putting your values into practice should be your main marketing. Demeaning and boisterous t-shirts shouldn't grace our backs, value statements should.

CONCEPTS THAT WORK

Double Up: Every semester work to bring in 2 new member classes. Recruiting a second class during the middle of a semester builds good momentum and provides an opportunity to recruit when other groups on your campus are not competing. Use the 4 or 6 week new member education programs to build a truly year round recruitment.

New Member Challenge: Teach 1-on-1 recruitment skills and challenge every new member to recruit one person before they are initiated. They are one of your best networking tools and usually have one of the highest enthusiasm levels in the Fraternity.

Summer Advantage: Choosing to take classes over the summer and even starting school early in the summer is becoming more common. Drastically underused for recruitment, summer presents many opportunities to recruit existing and incoming students.

YEAR ROUND PLAN

Vision: Develop a vision that creates excitement and accountability.

Marketing: Sell your vision by living it and clearly articulating it to the community.

Involvement: Create opportunity by placing your members in the best positions.

Referrals: Sell your vision to clubs, faculty, and alumni and build on their networks.

Relationship Building: Constant 1-on-1 recruitment skill training is a must.

National Goals:	Top 5 Recruiting Chapters:	Top 10 Growth Chapters:
• No chapter below 25 members	1. TCU 35	1. Edinboro 340%	6. St. Lawrence 105%
• 10 chapters above 50 members	2. Purdue 30	2. West Chester 180%	7. Toronto 100%

GET HIRED

Using Your Fraternity Experience

Experience Needed

The common lament of job seekers, that “employers will only hire people with experience, yet the only way to gain experience is to get hired” applies to almost every career field. Despite optimistic statements that one hears frequently regarding the number of available positions in the job market, landing an entry-level position can still prove difficult and frustrating in today’s competitive market place.

EXPERIENCE THAT LASTS A LIFETIME

One way to gain the experience needed to position one’s self into a career is to pursue an internship during the summer months, or a part-time work study while in school. An internship may not provide the pay, but the knowledge gained through the hands-on experience is more than enough to qualify the choice to pursue this type of opportunity. The mere fact a member is investing their time in this way will demonstrate that drive and desire to become successful in the field, something that employers like to see.

How can we help each other accomplish our life goals? Through recognizing these opportunities! When we are cognizant of these opportunities we are better able to share them with our membership and help forge and foster the notion of “lifelong growth and development of the Fraternity and its members.”

Experience Gained Through Fraternity

One of the most overlooked skills needed for a member to be successful is the ability to explain what being a member of Phi Kappa Sigma is all about. Whether verbally, through email, or in formal writing, members that communicate well gain a significant advantage in building their careers.

For our younger members looking to network into a career, the most obvious benefit of strong communication skills is realized in job interviews. Being able to talk with people about their membership within the Fraternity and how those experiences have helped them build a strong character and the necessary skills to become an asset to the firm will only benefit the member in the hiring process. It is the confidence which makes us that much better prepared for career advancement.

PHI KAPS LEARN & LEAD

The World is Changing

One of the most common questions asked by beginning professionals is “which area should I focus on first?” As with any career, preferences vary from company to company and person to person. One way for a member to answer this question is to start with an area that is most personally interesting to them. Through researching a company that one plans to interview with, and choosing an area of the company that is deemed important, is a great way to achieve this. Ultimately it probably matters little which area one learns first. More importantly, one should acknowledge that a well-rounded understanding of business is needed in a rapidly changing world. Those who can enjoy and appreciate this change are better able to fulfill a successful career within their business sector.

Why ΦΚΣ allows us to Learn & Lead

Some people have asserted that fraternity is “when you were in college,” and the opportunities that arise are generated through the “good ol’ boys network.” This concept might sound appealing to some, but if it were true, it would dilute the Phi Kappa Sigma Fraternity Experience.

Realistically, our Fraternity presents so much more, and involves such a wide range of experiences, that most serious companies value both experienced employees and ambitious employees alike. In fact, an effective career strategy involves seeking out more experienced people in one’s field, and learning new skills from these mentors.

Many firms view four-year degrees as a sign of commitment to the field. Employers care both about a person’s current knowledge and also their ability to learn and adapt for the future. Being a Phi Kap is one way of demonstrating one’s ability to learn and lead.

Objectives of ΦΚΣ

1. Scholarship – Wisdom

Through sharing wisdom, a bond is formed between young and old, teacher and student; this bond is what brings us together.

2. Fraternity – Integrity

The inner foundation for holding true to our values and what guides us to make the best decisions and lead others.

3. Personal Conduct – Honor

Staying true to a set of higher standards and morals in the face of adversity.

4. Financial Commitment – Responsibility

Being reliable in the fulfillment of the objectives of our Fraternity and our personal obligations, ensuring the success of our Membership.

5. College/University – Respect

“Do unto others as you would have them do unto you.” This statement is the acceptance of the ideals of others. In order to move forward as a Brotherhood, we must continue to consider each other’s viewpoints.

YOUNG CHARLOTTE ALUMNI BECOME E-BUSINESS LEADERS

Protravelgear.com

Stepping into his first job out of college James Dabbs (UNC Charlotte ΓΑ, '03), Director of Operations, was not daunted by the fact that he was the first employee of a brand new online retail website. Since that time, Brother Dabbs has taken on more and more responsibility, managing what is now the 2nd largest online travel retailer in the country. The company now has 8 employees. An article in the Wall Street Journal featured the company's largest boost yet, a partnership with John Deere to produce a licensed version of their headsets specifically for John Deere customers.

Carolinanightlife.com

Living it up in downtown Charlotte became a business model for Charles Wilson (UNC Charlotte ΓΑ, '03), Executive Director/Owner, when he and some friends created Carolina Nightlife.com in 2003. Since then the website has grown its online footprint and advertising base exponentially. "We get paid to party" is the tagline for Nightlifenetwork.com, the new franchising arm of Carolina Nightlife. Building on their success, their goal is to bring their franchises to all 50 states.

Studiobanks.com

With a unique vision of what a graphic design firm should be, Banks Wilson (UNC Charlotte ΓΑ, '02), Creative Director/Owner, set out on his own and started Studiobanks in 2002. Since that time Studiobanks has grown to 4 employees and serves clients such as Meineke Car Care Centers, Paragon Metals, and Opera Carolina. They have recently made a big move to a new office and are continuing to produce dynamic websites for all of their growing clients.

Frank Reiner (IIT AE, '82)

The Chlorine Institute is pleased to announce the appointment of Frank Reiner (IIT AE, '82), PE, as Vice President of Transportation and Storage. Brother Reiner will lead the North American chlor-alkali industry's safety advancement initiatives in the area of chlorine transportation and bulk storage.

Brother Reiner is a licensed Professional Engineer who received his BA from IIT and his Masters from Purdue University. He had also served as Alpha Epsilon's Housing Corporation President in the early 90s.

Fred Rodriguez (New Orleans BE, '72)

On October 8, 2005, Fred Rodriguez (New Orleans BE, '72) was installed as President of the American Society for Clinical Pathology (ASCP). As the oldest and largest nonprofit professional society of laboratory professionals, ASCP continues to grow and prosper in the education and self-assessment in the discipline of laboratory medicine.

BILL DENHARD (MIT AM, '42) RECEIVES MIT'S LOBDELL AWARD

At the MIT Alumni Association's 2005 Alumni Leadership Conference this past September, Bill Denhard (MIT AM, '42) received MIT's "Harold E. Lobdell Distinguished Service Award."

The award is given by MIT to an alumnus who provides "alumni relations service of special depth over a sustained period." Through his leadership, the Alpha Mu Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma has raised the awareness of the MIT administration of the various impacts of their housing decisions, so to ensure the health of the fraternity system. He has also led MIT to restructure the program for capital improvements as well as operating grants, and provided important support to establishing the Alumni Independent Living Group (AILG) board and its programs as sustainable and vibrant forces. He also led the effort for the house renovation, including the essential diplomacy with the Neighborhood Association and the City, and the extra measures to ensure that the students who lived through the construction did not suffer in morale or academics. Bruce Wedlock (MIT AM, '56), Bob Greene (MIT AM, '55), Jay Goldman (MIT AM, '71), were on hand for the Awards Banquet to witness this moment of glory for Alpha Mu that Brother Denhard has so richly earned.

Of course, a notable fact for Phi Kaps is Brother Denhard may be one of the very few recipients over the years who actually knew "Lobby." Harold Lobdell (MIT AM, '17) was, among other things, Dean of Students for nearly 20 years, the 1st executive vice president of the Alumni Association, and publisher of the Technology Review. He was the driving force behind the Technology Loan Fund, which made an MIT education available to students of lesser means. Also, he once served as Grand Pi on Phi Kappa Sigma's Executive Board. Brother Wedlock recently had Lobby's fraternity pin mounted and framed for display in the Chapter House.

FELLOW BROTHER CARROLL ATTRACTS TOURISM AND TRIUMPHS WITH HISTORIC SOLDIERS WEEKEND

World War II Veterans Sam Ballinger and Mayor Herman Costello along with Matt Carroll and Mark Del Costello (Burlington City Historian) in front of the Bandstand.

HSW SUCCEEDS IN 2nd YEAR

Historic Soldiers Weekend was sponsored by Main Street Burlington in Burlington City, NJ, and organized by city resident Matt Carroll (Rowan ΔΓ, '95) for the second year in a row. Brother Carroll took it upon himself a few years ago to help out the community in any way possible; seeing that the community needed to attract more visitors as well as rejuvenate the downtown area. His committee has spent endless hours this past year planning, organizing, gaining sponsorships, and marketing the event. Through their hard work, the weekend brought together more than 100 re-enactors and attracted over 5,000 visitors. All proceeds benefit the revitalization of the downtown commercial district and Main Street Burlington.

Taken from the city's newsletter:

"The 2nd Annual Historic Soldiers Weekend Committee would like to offer thanks to everyone that volunteered to make this event so successful, including all committee and family members, the guys from the Delta Gamma Chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma,... The front gate design crew of Harry Heck, event master of ceremonies, Tedd Importico (Rowan ΔΓ, '96)...."

EXPERIENCE HISTORIC SOLDIERS WEEKEND 2006!

Historic Soldiers Weekend 2006 kicks off on October 28th, 2006. The weekend is a historical encampment, featuring re-enactors, and their equipment, from every American conflict, spanning from the French and Indiana War to the Vietnam War. Give your children a chance to see, hear, and touch history. Open to the public and ticket discounts for children under the age of 12. For more information, visit www.historicsoldiersweekend.com.

BROTHER CARROLL RECEIVES CITIZEN OF THE YEAR AWARD

For his hard work and dedication to the event, as well as starting a neighborhood crime watch, Brother Carroll was named '2005's Citizen of the Year' by the Greater Burlington Chamber of Commerce. He resides in Burlington City with his wife, Jacqueline, and their two daughters, 15-year-old Francesca, and 11-year-old Claudia. Brother Carroll is a training consultant at PHH Mortgage in Mount Laurel, NJ.

Kirk W. Pettry (Virginia Tech BO, '85)

During the day, he works as a Construction Engineer/Inspector for the Virginia Department of Transportation, but in his spare time, Kirk W. Pettry (Virginia Tech BO, '85) builds custom motorcycles and manufactures custom motorcycle parts. One of the products is offered by one of the biggest motorcycle parts distributors in the country, Mid-USA Motorcycle Parts.

During his time as an undergrad, it's believed that he was the only one who owned a Harley-Davidson on campus. That same cycle is still in his possession and has been featured in two international published magazines. Seven magazines have featured machines that he has constructed. Brother Pettry does his own custom paint, makes and sews his own custom leather seats, and produces his own line of custom made billet aluminum parts. Some of Brother Pettry's bike-building clients occasionally appear on shows such as Biker-Build-Off on the Discovery Channel. For more information, visit www.kirkscustoms.com.

IN MEMORIAM: DR. KARLEM RIESS

APRIL 17, 1913 – SEPTEMBER 4, 2005

PERSONAL REFLECTIONS FROM BROTHERS DR. RIESS MENTORED.

When I first met Karlem Riess in 1982, I was a still-skinny sophomore at the University of New Orleans. Nonetheless, Dr. Riess began right off the bat calling me, “Freshman” or “Fatty” – terms of endearment we all came to appreciate.

So started a wonderful 23-year relationship, which culminated this year with the passing of Dr. Riess.

Rarely do any of us have the opportunity to cross paths with the same influential person at multiple growth stages of our lives, except perhaps family members. The characterization of our Fraternity as a brotherhood suggests this opportunity.

While I am saddened that his passing occurred in such an abrupt and unexpected fashion during evacuation for the storm, my greatest lament is that, even at his advanced age, Dr. Riess still had tremendous potential to continue to give and to encourage and enlighten those around him.

It is up to all of us – Phi Kaps and friends alike – to hand down to others what Dr. Riess meant to us, both by sharing the wisdom he imparted to us and by striving to similarly dedicate our lives in service to others. Dr. Riess is the epitome of the motto of the Fraternity, “Stellis Aequus Durando,” which means, “Equal to the Stars in Endurance.” As long as there is a Phi Kappa Sigma active or alumni chapter anywhere or a Tulane University (where Doc studied, taught, administered and volunteered for most of his life), the positive and compelling legacy of Dr. Karlem Riess will live on.

Dr. John Karlem “Ducky” Riess is not so much a man as an institution. He was a part of the fabric of Tulane more than the buildings. Whether you had him as a professor, a fraternity advisor, or as a mentor, those who knew him loved him. Dr. Riess developed an incredible personal connection to just about everyone he ever met.

I came to Tulane and pledged Phi Kappa Sigma, the same fraternity as Dr. Riess. Ducky was the advisor for Phi Kap from the time of World War II through this past summer. Stellis Aequus Durando (“Equal to the Stars in Endurance”) is Phi Kap’s motto, and Ducky epitomized that motto. Think of one institution that has had that consistent a force over the course of such a long period of time. Many people talk about giving 100 percent, but Ducky was one of those rare individuals who really gave everything his all. He lived with his sister, Mary, almost all his life. He never married, and though he never had any children of his own, he had the fraternity members, who were like sons to him.

Many disdain the Greek system, but Dr. Riess firmly believed in its potential to mold men. His dedication was unwavering, and the best example I can give of the effect of his time with the fraternities comes from his memorial service. The entire fraternity (about fifty members) came in suits and ties on a Friday afternoon to honor him.

One of Dr. Riess’s greatest assets was his unconditional love of students. Sure, he’d make his rounds on fraternity row and tell everyone in no uncertain terms to BEHAVE, but at the end of the day, he forgave transgressions. He’d listen to anything you had to say, and while he was always brutally honest (whether you wanted him to be or not), he would never judge you, no matter what sin you had committed.

Editor’s Note: It is with a great sense of grief and sorrow that we report the passing of a great alumnus this past year. Phi Kappa Sigma International Fraternity has recognized Dr. Karlem Riess in the past for his numerous accomplishments and commitments throughout his life. At the 91st Grand Chapter in New Orleans, 2002, he was recognized for his Fraternal accomplishments with the Phi Kappa Sigma Lifetime Achievement Award. At the 92nd Grand Chapter in Chicago, 2004, he was recognized by having the Volunteer of the Year Award re-named in his honor.
